

LINDA STILES

CORPORATE COMMUNICATION STRATEGIST

Linda's Most Requested Programs

The Management Handbook

Making the Leap – When you received your promotion did you get the handbook for success? Linda will help you make the leap from worker to manager, from friend to boss, from uncertainty to success. Her program will give you're the techniques and tools to build your management foundation.

The Communication Challenge

Recognizing and Capitalizing on Your Behavioral Style – Understanding how to motivate others to action means first understanding how you communicate. Linda will guide you in discovering your style and then teach you to read others style. Her action-oriented program will teach you to apply the strengths of your style to the pursuit of success through others.

Leadership Essentials

Building the neXt Generation of Leaders - Transfer knowledge and maximize the value of the newest generation in the workplace. Linda will guide you through processes to build the neXt Generations into the neXt Leaders. This program delivers fun while building a foundation.

“Effective change
ALWAYS begins within”

“I just finished listening to your talk from CareerSmart 2004. I enjoyed it as I did today's seminar. Keep them coming. I've been looking at your "library" of topics and am eagerly waiting for the next one.”

Ron Hansen

Communication

Management

Leadership

Keynote
Trainer
Consultant

Linda's programs have successfully serviced the following industries.

- Legal
- Technology
- Education
- Pharmaceutical
- Medical
- Travel
- Aviation
- Government Contract
- Real Estate
- Oil & Gas
- Municipal and City Operational Support

Partial List of Clients

- King & Spalding Law Firm
- Universal Weather and Aviation Inc
- University of Phoenix
- 911 Emergency Operators
- American Society of Training and Development
- Houston West Chamber of Commerce
- The Windsor Club
- Greenspoint Business Association
- Raveneaux Mens Breakfast Club
- American Business Women's Association
- Kingwood Women in Business
- Future Business Leaders of America
- The Source Network

“Effective change ALWAYS begins within”

Linda combines her executive and management experience with an entrepreneurial spirit that has built three businesses. She has translated that experience to a powerful communication and leadership message that has been delivered to domestic and international audiences. She is a dynamic speaker with exceptional skill in creating and delivering motivational and entertaining presentations on solving the business communication puzzle.

“Linda, You were an absolute delight and I've been quoting you all week long and will continue to do so. You had many grrrrreat points to share and the woman next to me, who was a guest, was delighted and said that this was the training she wanted and needed. We loved you!”

Belinda Postman-Kaylani, Program Chairman –
American Business Women's Association

Why Linda?

- Her enthusiasm will focus on fulfilling your specific program needs.
- She builds a relationship with her audience to show the value of personal and business change through effective communication and leadership methods.
- She will make the program material come alive for your participants.
- She will charge up your audience with her electric energy to make your event a memorable one.

Our programs focus on making communication the key to corporate change. Effective communication is the foundation of effective leadership. Understanding how you communicate can enhance your ability to motivate others.

Communication

Management

Leadership